Did you know walking to school is a Bellevue SchoolPool activity?

Bellevue SchoolPool encourages families to explore different ways to get to and from school, like walking, riding your bike, taking the bus and carpooling. Less traffic is better for everyone and helps the environment.

Go to www.bellevueschoolpool.org for more information on how to participate!

Draw where you live.

Are there stop signs in your neighborhood?

Do you have sidewalks?

Are there cars parked on your street?

Do you have a lot of traffic on your street?

Your house

Traveling Through Your Neighborhood

Bee Alert

- before crossing the street, stop at the sidewalk, or edge of the street
- always look left, right, and then left again
- continue looking until you have crossed the street
- watch out for cars backing up and turning
- make sure drivers see you; try to make eye contact before crossing

Bee Careful

- walk facing traffic if you are not on the sidewalk
- obey signs and signals
- in rain or snow, allow extra time to cross the street
- don't run out between parked cars
- use extra caution when playing near the street—don't play in the street

Bee Seen

- wear bright colored clothing during the day
- at night, carry a flashlight or wear reflective material

Bee Alert, Bee Careful and Bee Seen

Find the 14 hidden pictures

Traffic moves when the light is green. Sometimes it's hard for a kid to be seen. Play it safe. You know what I mean.

Look at the following pictures of Jack crossing the street. Put them in 1-2-3-4 order.

When the walk signal appears, look left, right, and left again.

Stop at the edge of the street and push the silver button. Wait for the walk signal.

If the hand starts blinking, you will still have time to cross. But, if you haven't started to cross, wait for the next walk signal.

When clear, start walking—don't run. Keep looking and listening as you cross.
