Alternative 3: Providing Options Throughout the City

- Capacity for an additional 95,000 housing units (54,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 200,000 jobs (76,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 67.3 million square feet of commercial development.

Focus of Growth
In Mixed Use Centers, Neighborhood Centers, and in areas of high opportunity (good access to transit/jobs or near Neighborhood Centers).

Housing Variety
Alternative 3 provides the most variety of housing types, like townhomes or small apartment buildings in areas with good transit access and around Neighborhood Centers. Duplexes or other low-density typologies would be permitted across the city. Larger apartment buildings with studios and one-bedrooms would be permitted Mixed Use Centers.

Housing Affordability
This alternative provides the greatest subsidies and market rate housing through mandatory inclusionary affordability alongside additional capacity in Mixed Use Centers and increased incentives elsewhere to meet affordability targets. This alternative provides the most flexibility with tools to create subsidized housing.

Bellevue is growing. Bellevue’s Comprehensive Plan is intended to provide goals, policies, and strategies to ensure the city is a livable, welcoming, and vibrant place that maintains a high quality of life as the community grows over the next 20 years. The Comprehensive Plan Periodic Update and Wilburton Vision Implementation Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) looks ahead to the challenges Bellevue needs to address and the opportunities to ensure all people can thrive.

City-Wide Action Alternatives for Housing and Employment
Alternatives are different ways of achieving the Comprehensive Plan Update’s purpose and need and serve as the basis for environmental analysis relative to elements of the environment. The alternatives under consideration look at a range of options for where to locate new housing development, the types of housing to allow, and the overall capacity for new housing development citywide and in the Wilburton study area. Each Alternative is briefly described in the table below.

Alternative 1: Providing Options for Families of all Kinds

- Capacity for an additional 59,000 housing units (18,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 179,000 jobs (55,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 58.5 million square feet of commercial development.

Focus of Growth
Primarily in Mixed Use Centers (Downtown, East Main, BelRed, Wilburton, Crossroads, Factoria, Eastgate). Gentle density added across the city.

Housing Variety
Alternative 1 provides minimal variety of housing types. Incentives for larger units in mixed use areas provide additional two-bedroom and larger units. Duplexes, cottage housing, and other low-density typologies permitted across the city.

Housing Affordability
This alternative provides some mix of subsidized and market rate housing through mandatory inclusionary affordability alongside additional capacity in growth corridor (Downtown, East Main, Wilburton, and BelRed) and increased incentives elsewhere to meet affordability targets. This alternative provides minimal flexibility with tools to create subsidized housing.

Alternative 2: Unlocking Access for More Residents

- Capacity for an additional 77,000 housing units (36,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 177,000 jobs (53,000 above No Action).
- Capacity for an additional 58.3 million square feet of commercial development.

Focus of Growth
Both in Mixed Use Centers, Neighborhood Centers, and in areas with good access to transit/jobs.

Housing Variety
Alternative 2 provides some variety in housing types like townhomes or small apartment buildings in areas with good transit access.Duplexes, or other low-density housing types would be permitted across the city. Apartment buildings with studios and one-bedrooms would be permitted in Mixed Use and Neighborhood Centers.

Housing Affordability
This alternative provides a good mix of subsidized and market rate housing through tiered voluntary inclusionary affordability alongside additional capacity in Mixed Use and Neighborhood Centers and increased incentives elsewhere to meet affordability targets. This alternative provides some flexibility with tools to create subsidized housing.
