Welcome to Winter & Spring 2027

A new year brings fresh opportunities to explore, connect and discover something new. I am excited to welcome you to Bellevue's Winter & Spring 2027 Activity Guide and all the possibilities the seasons ahead have to offer.

Since joining Bellevue's Parks & Community Services Department, I've been inspired by the many ways our parks, programs and gathering places enrich people's lives. I've always believed that parks and recreation are more than places to visit or activities to enjoy. It's about the connections we make, the memories we create and the sense of belonging we build together. These experiences are part of what makes Bellevue such a vibrant and special place to live.

Returning to the Pacific Northwest has been especially meaningful for me. I spent part of my childhood in Sammamish and still have family in the region, so serving a community I've long felt connected to is both a privilege and a joy.

Inside this guide, you'll find something for nearly every age, ability and interest, from sports, fitness and outdoor adventure to arts, enrichment and lifelong learning. Behind these offerings is a dedicated team committed to creating welcoming spaces, removing barriers and helping people of all backgrounds enjoy the benefits of parks, recreation and connection.

As you look through these pages, I encourage you to revisit a favorite activity, try something entirely new or simply find more ways to connect with the people and places around you. We look forward to welcoming you to our parks, community centers and programs in the months ahead.

Here's to a healthy, active and joyful 2027!
