

Should Bike Share Come to Bellevue?

Have you seen the free-floating bike shares that started operating in Seattle this summer? Some of those colorful bikes have already started showing up on streets and sidewalks in downtown Bellevue! The city is currently exploring the public's interest in privately run bike share services in Bellevue.

We're seeking your input through an online survey.

Tell us what you think about bicycling in downtown Bellevue, your level of interest in seeing bike share come to Bellevue, and any concerns the city should consider.

Take the short survey:
